THE WORLDNEGRO SINGER "NAT" KING COLE
PASSES AWAY

With the passing away of Nat, the world has lost one of its greatest singers.

It was reported that Nat was one of the few singers who got everything out of a song without scratching it.

He was famous for taking old songs and singing them with the warmth of a new one.

Nat never depended on tricks. He didn't have to, to amuse his mammoth crowds, because he had the voice, and was always respected for his songs.

Nat's way of singing always made you feel that he was in the house or in the car with you. It's no wonder that Nat King Cole had achieved great popularity, his rare knack not only made a hit out of a song, but it set the standard for the song for others who sang it.

It was said that Nat had influenced a lot of singers, and the influence has always been towards sincerity, and simplicity.

As a piano player, he was sensitive to melodic lines, to what is the essence of any song. The perception he showed in his playing came through beautifully in his singing.

Indeed the world has missed one of the greatest.

Few of his great songs are: Mona Lisa, Nature Boy, and Rambling Rose.

JOHNSON LUNCHEON TO MARK LINCOLN'S
156TH BIRTHDAY

President and Mrs. Johnson observed the 156th birthday of Abraham Lincoln last Friday with a luncheon to which 100 distinguished scholars, writers and collectors of the Lincoln era were invited.

The White House, announcing this, said the luncheon service included china used at the time Abraham Lincoln was President.

Among those invited to the luncheon, at which Mr. Johnson spoke, were Vice President Humphrey, a number of Congressmen and Governors, and figures from the world of arts and letters, including Lincoln historians Bruce Catton and Mark van Doren.

U.S. PUSHES COMMERCIAL RADIOISOTOPE
INDUSTRY

The United States took an important step last week to widen the commercial radioisotope industry.

The action also will help offset the economic impact of plutonium production cut-backs ordered last year by President Johnson.

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) announced that two large American firms will build and operate a plant at Hanford, Washington, to recover and process radioisotopes generated as "waste" byproducts in plutonium-production reactors.

For 20 years the Hanford reactors have been producing plutonium for weapons and as fuel for power reactions. Waste byproducts containing the radioisotopes were stored in underground tanks.

In line with the Presidential decision to cut back the rate of nuclear weapons production, three reactors at Hanford are being shut down by July of this year, putting about 2,000 workers out of jobs.

CHURCHILL LEAVES $1.5M.

Sir Winston Churchill, who was reputed to have earned a million sterling with his pen since the war, left £304,044 in his will.

The net estate after payment of outstanding liabilities amounted to £266,054. Death duty on this amounting to £109,093 had been paid.

Sir Winston might have died a millionaire, but years before his death he created a large trust fund to provide for his children and grandchildren.

He had considerably reduced the personal estate of the great statesman at his death at the age of 90, nearly three weeks ago.

As an author, Sir Winston probably earned more money, more quickly than any other literary figure in history. For his war memoirs, he is said to have received £250,000 for the American serial rights alone—the biggest deal ever negotiated between an author and publisher.

Apart from bequests to members of his personal staff, Sir Winston left one third of the residue of the estate to Lady Churchill, the other two-thirds to his children, Randolph, Sarah and Mary.

RINGO'S ALONE WITH HIS DARLING

Ringo Starr, 24, the Beatles off-beat drummer, came out of a honeymoon hideaway to tell a press conference:

"Marriage—I think it's wonderful—especially after 25 hours."

Turning to his 18-year-old bride, Maureen Cox, he said ruefully, "Alone at last, darling."

Ringo wed Maureen in a double-ring ceremony in London last Thursday morning.

Asked if they were going to have children, Ringo replied: "We hope so, but not too many. About three or four will do."

"Have you kissed yet?" a newspaperman asked him.

"Kissed!" exclaimed Ringo, "Why we're not that friendly yet."

Asked when he got engaged, Ringo answered:

"At 2 a.m. in the Ad Lib Club in London about four weeks ago."

Maureen, a black-haired, dark-eyed girl, wore a pink suit and a black sweater and held hands with her husband throughout the morning. Someone asked her if she could cook.

"No", she said.

Meanwhile, the sedate city of London is putting a value of nearly £2 million on Beatle music.

Yesterday, public applications were taken for 1,250,000 shares—a quarter of the total issued—at $1,086 each in Northern Songs Company, which has a copyright deal for Beatle music.

Paul Mc Cartney and John Lennon, the Beatles who write the music, each have a 15 per cent stake in the firm.

PARACHUTISTS COLLIDE

Last week, two French army parachutists were killed in Orleans when they stunned themselves in a mid-air collision before their parachutes had opened.

WATCH THOSE RED BLOUSES

The U.S. Customs Bureau has warned American tourist against buying cloth goods in the Caribbean area that carry false European markings while, in fact, are products of Communist China.

Such goods as linens, blouses, and sweaters are being sold in Curacao, Panama and at Caribbean ports "at ridiculously—low prices," the Bureau said, adding such goods are subject to seizure.

The Bureau gave the warning in a notice to steamship companies, airlines and others concerned.

"Regardless of value, such articles are subject to detention unless a licence is obtained from the Foreign Assets Control," the notice said.

Trinidad and Tobago will share in a $1,561,600 grant appropriation approved by the Rockefeller Foundation for support in 1965 of virus research under the International Cooperating Program in medical and natural sciences. Brazil and Colombia will also benefit from the appropriation which will permit research to be carried on in field laboratories and medical centers in the respective countries.

A good number of the grants are intended to help improve educational facilities in several Latin American countries, particularly in Colombia, Mexico, Chile and Brazil.

The funds for Latin American projects are part of the philanthropic organizations, total of $11,451,939 approved during the last three months of 1964 for domestic and foreign projects to promote the health, economic and social welfare of the world's peoples. Details of these projects are contained in the foundation's quarterly report released last Tuesday.

In all, the foundation announced research grants totaling $116,700 to individuals and educational institutions in Jamaica, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, El Salvador, Guatemala, Mexico and Peru.

Several Latin American countries are also participating in world wide projects supported by new foundation grants ap-

In addition, grants totaling $14,275 were provided for faculty members at Catholic University and the University of Chile to undertake individual research projects.

U.S. TAKES SERIOUS VIEW OF EMBASSY ATTACKS -- RUSK

The United States is taking an increasingly serious view of the continued and repeated attacks on several of its diplomatic missions overseas, according to Secretary of State Rusk, earlier this week.

"I think that you will find in 1965," Mr. Rusk said in a television interview last Sunday night, "we shall press the point very sharply."

Mr. Rusk returned to his desk on Monday after spending ten days in the Southern State of Florida recuperating from a cold. The television interview was taped in mid-January for broadcast on February 14.

Secretary Rusk, interviewed during an hour-long television program called "Making of a Diplomat," said:

"We expect when demonstrations arise that the host government will organize itself to provide full protection for our personnel and our official installations."

EDITORIAL

WHILE MEN SLEPT

So began the text which started the Mission at the Anglican church in San Nicolas and we might apply that same text to our daily lives, especially those of us who like to indulge in gossip. We sow tares.

Newspapers are sometimes called scandal sheets because they print any old tripe they can pick up. And many are those of us who like to read about So-and-so because it gives us a feeling of superiority.

"At least we are not the only ones who are bad," we say. "Look at So-and-so." But there is also a saying which goes like this: "When your brother's house is on fire, throw water on yours": "Take heed, lest ye fall."

Coming back to our caption, which of us can recall the trouble maker in our community, the one whose business it is to go about stirring up dirt? The only thing good about that is that that person usually gets mixed up in the dirt, like spitting in the sky. Where will it fall? Right in your face. Want to try it?

In our lust for popularity, we sometimes stoop to low, mean tricks. We try to eliminate any one who may stand in our way (while they sleep) and to do this we quite often resort to tale bearing and apple polishing (sowing tares). It doesn't matter whether the position we seek is in commerce or simply in social life. So we start in subtle ways to open other people's closets and take a peep at their skeletons while we keep ours burglar-proof.

start mentioning the faults and deficiencies in our victim, because we want to camouflage our own. We twist and contort the facts so that in the end we are amazed at our ingenuity in getting people to think our way and to do things we want them to do.

These tricks are not limited to common individuals. The worse we can ever hear of anyone is when that person attempts to take up public office. Not even the President of the United States is exempted from the slanderers--not kings nor queens, doctors nor clergymen.

The trump card usually pulled in every election is the one against the man's character and integrity.

You can fool some of the people, some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time. For people recognize that there is bad in best of us and good in the worse of us.

Our concern should be with ourselves, our own skeletons -- the ones we should fight hard to get rid of. And people will notice our effort and try to emulate us. So that instead of sowing tares in our neighbour's garden, we will help him keep them out.

HUMOR:

COST CONTROL

A very shapely lady swayed her hips into a lawyer's office. "I want a divorce from Husband. "Very well, madam," said the lawyer. "For the standard fee set by the Bar Association I can commence proceedings immediately." "How much will it be?" "Approximately $300,--". "Forget it," she said, as she started for the door, "I can have him bumped off for a hundred dollars."

ARUBA BEACH HOTEL

Reinhold Bielinski, a young Venezuelan of German descent, has complete hotel plan for Aruba in his pocket. His plan is to build fifty bungalows, a main building with a ground floor and three stories on a plot of 440 by 55 meters to be given on long lease terms north of POVA at Palm Beach.

Mr. Bielinski is the Venezuelan representative of the Onassis shipping companies sailing under Panamanian flags, and is also consul general of Panama in Caracas. For his Aruba hotel plans, he is the representative of three large financing trust companies established in Switzerland and the Bahamas.

The second phase of the project calls for three additional stories.

If construction can be started in May, the fifty bungalows will be ready in September. He has good hopes that also the main building with three stories with living quarters will be ready, equipped and furnished, before the next tourist season. He will use the prefabs in the construction for the bungalows and also the main building.

HUMOR: "WAR"

Things have come to a pretty pass;
When war makes so many vital things scarce
Without giving men the ghost of a chance -
They'll take the zippers right off our pants,
Thus heartlessly robbing men like me;
Of my hard won social security.

SPORTSGROUP FORMS ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION (AAA)

Sometime ago, the Aruba Athletic Association was formed, and as a result, separated itself from the Aruba Athletic and Cyclist Association. The group has since registered as a member of the A(ruba) S(port) U(nion).

The sport-minded board members are: Mr. R. H. Mac Donald (President), Mr. K. T. Wong (Vice-president), Mr. E. Supriana (Secretary), Mr. Martinez (Treasurer), and Mr. Tjin-A-Loy (Commissioner).

One of the board's first task is a plan to organize a school Olympiad this year, apart from the traditional ASU Olympiad, and is urging and requesting the cooperation and assistance from all the schools on the island, in making this event a success.

Plans are in the making to place a Trophy at their disposal. This trophy will have to be contested for yearly.

The board members, headed by their energetic leader Mr. R. Mac Donald, are already laying out plans to contact Curacao. The possibilities exist that discussions will be centered around the formation of an Antillian Athletic Federation. It is hoped that Curacao will make it possible to send representatives to this year ASU' Olympiad.

In order to enhance Athletic sports in our community, the Aruban Sporting Organizations will be petitioned to form athletic groups, so that they can participate in inter-island Track and Field Meet.

YMCA ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association, officers were elected for the present 1965 term.

The new President of the YMCA is Dr. Vivian L. Hymans. Dr. Hymans has been for several years a very active member of the Executive Committee, of which he was Chairman in 1964.

Officers elected to the Executive Committee of the YMCA were: R.P. Steele, P.V. Sjiem Fat, L. Roberts, Carey De Freitas, C. H. Raghunath and K. Ty Wong.

ANTILLEAN TEAM TO PARTICIPATE IN LA PAZ COMPETITION

The A.B.B.A. issued a press release in which it was announced that an invitation has been received from the Amateur Baseball Federation of Venezuela, to participate in the La Paz competition, named after the late President John F. Kennedy, which will be held at Maracay from February 21 to March 2, 1965.

This invitation was made personally by Mr. Eusebio Romero, who is a member of the Board of the Venezuelan Federation.

On February 10, the A.B.B.A. Board conferred with Mr. Romero concerning the invitation. In view of the fact that the selection is presently participating in the World Championship at Colombia, the Board decided to send an Antillean Team instead. This team will comprise of nine players from Aruba and nine from Curacao, a coach from Aruba and one from Curacao, and a delegate from each island.

In a meeting held at the Lago Sport Park on February 12, the following players were selected:

Louis Salomon	Phillip Freedom
Raymond Violenus	Paus Ruiz
Cecil Haynes	Aurelio Buckley
Guillermo Richardson	Roberto Agumbero
Victor Albus

Manager-Coach: Ramon Hodge
Delegate: Harry LeGrand

These players practiced on Monday and Wednesday last from 6:00 to 8:30 p.m. at the Wilhelmina Stadium in Oranjestad, under the direction of Mr. Ramon Hodge.

Today the selection will travel to Venezuela by plane, that will come pick up the players past to Curacao for the rest of the delegation and continue to Maiquetia.

The A.B.B.A. Board has resolved that although the invitation was made directly to Aruba, (A.B.B.A.) that it would be important and opportune to send an Antillean selection in order that we may take a further step towards strengthening the position of the recently founded Antillean

Baseball Federation.

Besides Aruba and Venezuela, teams from Panama, Santo Domingo, United States and Puerto Rico will also participate in the competition.

AHREND TO RECRUIT WORKERS FOR HOLLAND

A furniture factory in Holland is sending its personnel manager to Aruba and Curacao to recruit Antillians to work in its factory at Zwanenburg in Holland. Mr. de Leeuw will arrive today in Curacao for this purpose. His task is to find 42 young men, 27 for production and 15 for technical work. He will be assisted by Mr. van der Jagt of Social Affairs, and Mr. Willemse, director of Ahrend Antilliana N. V.

The production workers need not have any technical knowledge. They will be used to finish wood and metals and assemble the furniture. The technicians will be trained into maintenance of electrical and mechanical equipment.

Elementary school education will be sufficient for the production workers and LTS for the technical workers.

Recruits will receive H-Fls. 121,57 plus Fls. 14,00 premium pay per month. They will be entitled to participate in pension and sickness benefit plans and other benefit plans.

At the factory at Holfweg, a small group of Antillians will be trained for future work at Ahrend, Curacao. The production workers will receive special training in building furniture.

Ahrend workers in Holland have volunteered to provide accommodations for the 42 recruits who will be required to contribute only fifteen guilders towards room and board. The group will probably leave here the first of April. Selection of candidates will commence next Monday and will last through March 15.

The plan to recruit these Antillians for Ahrend Nederland was conceived by Mr. Smulders during his visit to Curacao last year, when he was approached by Mr. C. D. Kroon about the possibility of establishing a furniture factory in the Antilles.

MISSION AT HOLY CROSS

The community has been receiving a spiritual treat this week in the form of a series of addresses by the very eloquent speaker, the Reverend Father A. Turner, Anglican Priest, conducting a Mission at Holy Cross Anglican Church in San Nicolas.

The mission started on Sunday and every night has seen the crowds wending their way to Holy Cross for two hours of spiritual repast. The sermons stressed the need for repentance.

Beginning with the text "While Men Slept," taken from the parable of the Tares and the Wheat, the speaker gave many examples of how evil creeps in where good intentions are being fostered because men are not careful enough, they often fall into a spiritual sleep.

During the first part of the week he dealt separately with Conviction, Contrition and Conversion, each address preceded by lively hymn singing by the packed church, prayers and intercessions. The service ends each evening with Benediction of the Most Holy Sacrament.

On Sunday morning there will be general communion and the Mission will end on Sunday evening.

Father Turner comes from Wales. He received part of his training at Kelham, the Society of the Sacred Mission. He has worked in the Diocese of Antigua for more than twelve years and is very much in demand as a Mission Conductor.

He leaves here on Tuesday, to return to his parish, St. James, Nevis.

Those who have received spiritual help through the Mission would, no doubt, want to wish Father Turner Godspeed. They may do so at a farewell tea party on Monday evening at the Parish Hall. Tickets are available from members of the Mother's Union.

TWENTY-THREE YEARS SINCE U-BOAT ATTACK

Apart from the material loss, which no doubt has been replaced a hundred times, there were those who suffered irreparable loss.

The names of those who gave their lives are inscribed in various monuments throughout the Antilles.

WOMEN'S COLUMNOXTAILS

Though oxtails (the tails of cattle) have much bone, they also have a good share of sweet, rich-flavored meat. They need long, slow simmering.

Fresh oxtails come whole or disjointed into 1½" to 2" lengths. Frozen Disjointed Oxtails, packaged by well-known packers, are excellent. Cook as label directs. Allow about 1 lb. oxtails for 2 servings. Keep fresh oxtails loosely wrapped in refrigerator; use within 24 hr. Keep frozen oxtails until time to use.

BRAISED OXTAILS

2 lb. oxtails, cut into 2" lengths	1 tablesp. vinegar
3 Tablesp. fat or salad oil	½ teasp. minced garlic
1 cup minced onions	2 teasp. salt
2 cups hot water	1/8 teasp. pepper
	1 tablesp. sugar.

Preheat broiler 10 min., or as manufacturer directs. Broil oxtails about 10 min., turning them frequently, until browned on all sides. Meanwhile, in hot fat in Dutch oven, saute onions until tender. Add meat and rest of ingredients; simmer, covered, 3 to 4 hr., or until meat is tender, adding more boiling water if necessary.

Remove meat to heated platter; keep warm. Thicken gravy. Pour over or serve with meat.

Serve with buttered noodles or mashed potatoes.

Makes 4 servings.
